Re: Irradiated Foods

Dear Sirs/Madams:

As a nutrition consultant, I am extremely concerned with the safety and wholesomeness of the American food supply. I am writing to urge you to require that all irradiated foods be labeled with the words "treated with irradiation" rather than "cold pasteurized," which is misleading. Labeling irradiated foods in clear terminology will enable consumers to make more informed decisions about the quality of the foods they choose to buy.

Above and beyond labeling, I would strongly suggest that irradiation not be used at all in the processing of foods.

Sincerely,

Laura Jane Hilton
